THE HARTFORD MONUMENT—DISCUSSION.

MR. ALLABOUGH :—

In regard to the Hartford monument I must say that I am against the project for the present. That would be like taking a bigger bite than we could chew. The Moving Picture Fund is enough for us. Let the next administration take up the monument. I have always thought that the Hartford School authorities should attend to it; otherwise the New England Association of the Deaf.

So we had better not attempt anything until absolutely necessary.

LEGISLATION AFFECTING THE DEAF.

A bill is before the Oklahoma Legislature to place the School for the Deaf under the State Board of Charities. The information came to me through an Eastern correspondent who has friends in Oklahoma. Immediately upon receiving the information I wrote to the Governor and Legislature of Oklahoma protesting against the measure. I also wrote to other parties requesting them to use their influence against the bill. Mr. Veditz has written to Senator Gore to secure his assistance in defeating the bill. Replies so far received are encouraging. The deaf of Oklahoma should oppose this bill with all their might. It would be well also for the deaf in other States to write and protest against the measure, just to show that we are awake and take an interest in measures that affect us as a class.

Another bill is before Nebraska Legislature, to compel the use of the oral method in the Nebraska School for the Deaf. It is Senate File 173, introduced by Bartling (by request) and is entitled "A Bill for an act to provide for a change to the oral, aural and lip-reading method of instruction and training of pupils in the Nebraska School for the Deaf, and to provide for the education of those pupils qualified for such instruction and the training in other deaf schools pending the change of methods in this State."

The bill provides that all new pupils and all pupils who have been in school less than three years "shall hereafter be taught and trained in said school by the oral, aural and lip-reading method to the exclusion of the deaf alphabet and sign language, unless incapacitated by mental defects or malformation of the vocal organs." Older pupils who cannot be taught by the oral method may, if so desired by their parents, be sent out of the State to other schools and taught at the expense of the State.

The bill has been referred to the Committee on Deaf, Dumb, and Blind.

The Nebraska Alumni Association, of which Mr. P. E. Seely is president, has very properly taken up the fight against the bill, and has appealed to the National Association for assistance. In response to his appeal, literature prepared by the Bureau of Publicity has been forwarded, and such influence as the N. A. D. may have will be gladly used to defeat this pernicious kind of legislation.

Information has reached me that legislation adversely affecting the deaf is contemplated in a third State, but as definite information has not yet been received, I do not give the name of the State or nature of the proposed legislation.

AN APPEAL FOR MORE MEMBERS AND MORE MONEY FOR THE N. A. D.

To the Deaf of the United States :

The information, published elsewhere, to the effect that legislation seriously affecting the deaf is under way or contemplated in three different States, and that requests have come to the N. A. D. for assistance in combating such legislation, shows the need of a strong National organization, with the means to act efficiently in such cases. But to do it we must have more money, and to get more money we must have more members. I want two thousand deaf to join the N. A. D. Plans are under way to secure increased membership. But do not wait to be asked personally. Send a dollar to S. M. Freeman, Treasurer, School for Deaf, Cave Springs, Ga., and enroll as a member. Annual dues are only 50 cents a year.

We need money to print mail literature, and for clerical assistance. At present there is not enough money available to print the proceedings of the Colorado Convention. With two thousand members we would have an annual income of a thousand dollars a year and with that an immense amount of good work can be done.

We are raising an Endowment Fund for the Association. We have now $200.00 as a starter. I propose to place one fourth of all membership dues in the endowment fund, thus insuring its steady growth. But it will be a long time before the Endowment Fund will be of any use to the Association. Meanwhile the Association should be doing active, useful work. With a large membership we will be in position to do it. Those preferring to do so can send their membership fee direct to me. Come, join the Association.

TO THE EDITOR OF PAPERS FOR THE DEAF.

I shall appreciate if the Editors of the l. p. f. will from time to time mention the N. A. D. and its affairs in their papers. The JOURNAL was made the official organ of the association at Colorado Springs and I am sending all official information to it for publication. Under present circumstances it is impossible for me to write to the various papers separately, and the editors might not care to publish it if I should. But there are many deaf whom I should like to reach but who do not take the JOURNAL. If the editors will help, many of them can be reached, and probably be induced to aid the N. A. D., and through it the deaf in general. Anything published in the official columns of the N. A. D. may be reprinted, proper credit being given. I desire to make the N. A. D. an active organization doing good for the deaf, and to that end I ask the co-operation of all.

BALTIMORE.

Mr. Winfield Marshall, of Washington, delivered his long anticipated lecture on "The Little Corporal," under the auspices of Grace Episcopal Deaf-Mute Guild, on Friday evening, February 17th. A large audience was present and the reception he received at the close of the lecture fully testified to the pleasure he gave. The Baltimore papers the next day spoke of him as a personification of "The Little Corporal" in the realm of oratory, and the characterization was not amiss. Mr. Marshall's delivery is singularly clear and graphic and is happily free from affectation and pose, and that hurried and hesitating manner so common among platform speakers. We shall hear more from the Little Corporal.

Greatly to the regret of the members of Grace Guild, Professor Herbert E. Day, who was scheduled to delive a lecture in Baltimore on March 3d, has been obliged to ask for a postponement. Another date has not been selected as yet, but we hope it is not to be far off.

We wish to call attention to the coming lecture by President Hall, of Gallaudet College, on April 7th. This will be the first appearance of President Hall before a Baltimore audience of deaf-mutes, and he is assured of a warm and cordial welcome. The deaf of Baltimore feel greatly honored that the worthy successor of the distinguished Dr. Gallaudet will be with them this year.

A number of young men met in Room 407 of the Y. M. C. A. at the close of the regular Bible Class meeting on Tuesday evening, February 21st. The object of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, which has now over a thousand members in the United States, was the chief topic of discussion. Much interest was manifested, and the probability of organizing a Division in Baltimore is very bright. There are now, according to official announcement, five classes of insurance policies in effect—$100, $250, $500, $750, and $1000—in the Frat. This makes it possible for many already insured in the regular Insurance Companies to add another policy to their credit.

Mr. Adolph Bomhoff is the happy father of a pretty little boy. Melvin came into the world to add sunshine to the lives of Adolph and Lola on the morning of February 6th. A welcome to Melvin—may he live long and prosper, and congratulations to Adolph and Lola—may their tribe increase.

A confirmation Service for the Deaf of Grace Mission will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 9th, Palm Sunday. The following Sunday, Easter, the Bishop of Maryland, the Rt. Rev. John Gardiner Murray, D.D., will preach to the congregation of the Mission in Grace Chapel. Those who were present and remember the helpful and inspiring sermon by the Rev. Dr. Humphries a few weeks ago, are anticipating much pleasure from the Bishop's visit. Mr. J. C. Forrester, who interpreted Rev. Dr. Humphries sermon so well and happily, will be asked to interpret the Bishop's sermon also.

Mr. Louis Kampe who has been confined to the City Hospital for several months with tuberculosis is in a serious condition. His wife and daughters and several deaf-mute friends have been visiting him more or less regularly. Mr. Kampe has made a valiant and wonderful fight against the disease of which he has been a sufferer for many years—an iron constitution, a masterful will and an ardent desire to live for the sake of his wife and children have been powerful weapons with which he has held the field against the dread foe.

Mr. Simon Mundheim, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a pupil at the Kendall School in the late eighties, and for many years a resident of Washington, was a visitor in Baltimore from Sunday, 19th, to Wednesday, 22d. The ostensible object of Simon's visit was to pass the time of day with his old friends who were classmates of his at Kendall Green. To give color to this object he entertained two of them at an elaborate dinner at the Hotel Raleigh Monday noon. Between the courses it was observed that Simon's thoughts would wander, and when at last they began to stroll up Madison Avenue, the dinner was hastened and Simon was put on the right trolley car. The conductors of this line were kept busy from that hour until Wednesday evening when Simon left for Washington singing "They Don't Know it over in New York." Mr. Mundheim's friends will be glad to see him in Baltimore often.

The Silent Churchman for February has just been issued. It is given almost wholly to an account of the life and work of Rev. Mr. Mann, the Mid-Western Missionary to the Deaf, who died on January 21st, 1911. Rev. Mr. Mann was one of the editors of the Silent Churchman and also a liberal contributor to it support. Among the many church papers that have given extensive notice of Mr. Mann's life and work and final passing we might mention the Parish Record of Wheeling, W. Va. This mouthly publication contains a four column sketch of Rev. Mr. Mann from the pen of the Southern Missionary to the Deaf.

Miss Annie B. Barry entertained over forty of her friends at a Pink Tea in the Parish House of Grace Church, Friday evening, February 24th. Prizes were awarded in a guessing coutest, Mrs. Peter Krastel, Mrs Harry Reamy and Mr. George Schafer being the winners. Refreshments of ice cream cakes and tea were served. Miss Barry had intended this party to mark her farewell to her Baltimore friends, before leaving to spend several mouths with the McGregors of Ohio, but—, well the McGregors will have to wait until after Easter.

Rev. D. E. Moylan gave an account of his trip to Colorado before a good sized audience at the Eutaw St. Church on Thursday, the 23d inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClary are making preparations to ship their nine goats to Tolchester Beach. The Beach will be open early in May, and McClary and his goats will be found by the little ones at the usual place and ready to serve all of them who may want to take a ride.

Rev. and Mrs. Whildin and Misses Barry and Kilgore attended the Pantomime and Supper of St. Barnabas Mission, Washington, on Saturday, February 25th. They report the affair a great success socially, financially, and also in point of attendance. The members of Grace Mission, Baltimore, offer hearty congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Merrill, Misses Kilgore, Hanberg, Talbert, Cowels, Mrs. Boland, Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. Edelen, Mr. Cox, Mr. Nies, Mr. Talbert and Mr. Blaine, who worked for its success. It was the unanimous opinion of all that in point of attendance it was the largest affair ever held under the auspices of a Washington City organization.

A Mr. O'Brien, a seventy-year-old deaf-mute, died on Tuesday, February 21st, at the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor on Valley St. This death was due to an injury he received from jumping from an upper story of the Home during a moment of mental aberration. Mr. O'Brien was little known by the deaf of Baltimore.

The Beneficial Society of the St. Francis Xavier Society of the Deaf held a Social and Drawing at the the Mission House, on Biddle St, on Wednesday evening, February, 22d. The prize, a china clock, was won by a hearing lady.

Mr. Orlando Price is hopping around with a case of neuralgia of the nose. Ditto, Henry Nicol.

The Parish Record of Grace Church for February contains a full page of items concerning affairs at the Deaf-Mute Mission, The Record is published monthly and is distributed gratis among the staunch members and rarely fails to give something which the members of the Mission to the deaf cannot read with enjoyment.

Rev. Mr. Whildin frequently receives letters from people who are hard of hearing, and who are desirous of instruction in lip-reading. The number of such letters received recently seems to show that there is an unusual increase in the number of such cases at the present time.

What is Right and not Right

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

I move that the President be authorized to appoint a sub-committee to be known as the Finance Committee, consisting of three members of the Executive Committee with the President as one, which Committee is to be given full power to expend and approve of all bills for current expenses, printing and stationery not to exceed $25.00 for any one month. All expenditures in excess of this amount for any single item are to be submitted for approval to the Executive Committee.

You cannot appoint a sub-committee. It is illegal. The Executive Committee, as a whole, is a Financial Committee, and the Executive Committee cannot create a sub-committee to be given FULL POWER to expend and approve, for the simple reason that the Executive Committee cannot account for positions not provided for by the by-laws; in short, the Committee cannot create laws. A sub-committee may be one just to expedite matters by examining bills, etc., and then report to the Executive Committee, which, by the by-laws, alone has full power to, "expend and approve."

I move also that the Finance Committee shall be authorized to advance to all active officers, upon the recommendation of the President, such sums as may be necessary for them to carry on the duties of their respective offices. These officers shall be required to keep account of their expenditures and submit them for approval to the Finance Committee.

Illegal for the above reasons. Authorisation can be done only by the Executive Committee as a whole.

Lastly I move that the President be allowed to draw on the treasurer, should any case of emergency arise, a sum not to exceed $25.00 and report to Finance Committee.

ARTHUR L. ROBERTS.
Member Ex. Com.

The three above motions are seconded by Oscar H. Regensburg.

O. K.; only it will, as before, be the Executive Committee alone that can allow the President use of the money.

[From The Observer.]

HOW SHALL THE PRESIDENT RECOGNIZE MOTIONS?

A president who has to consemblage is in a trying position when perhaps a dozen persons spring to their feet at once demanding recognition. He must give the floor to some one and that in an impartial way.

He has to recognize somebody. His duty is to sit still and keep his eyes on the assemblage. He has no right to be a talker.

Can the president of a committee immediately recognize every motion sent in, when he has to send said motion by mail to each of the eight committeemen, give time for discussion, which will take weeks if not months, and finally take a vote? It can't be done.

He has to, or get out of the office at once.

There is but one way to do it and that is for the president to use his judgment as to the importance of motions and submit them according as time permits. Some questions demand prompt attention, others do not.

He has no business to use his judgment or say that some questions demand prompt attention and others do not.

It may be argued that questions should be submitted in the order which they are received, but such course will hardly work.

Such is the Roberts' Rules which is the official guide of N. A. D.

Under it a man who wished to block legislation could send in fifty motions which would pretty effectually fill up all time for the next three years.

No one can send in fifty motions at once.

Roberts is wrong in submitting three motions at once.

It does not often happen that several persons submit motions about the same object. But when several persons want to do so, the one who first attracts the eye of the president has the right to the floor.

Then his motion may go through the usual Parliamentary channel of amendments, if necessary.

The President cannot take it on himself to say which motion is better.

We believe that Mr. Hanson's action in submitting motions according to their importance is right and should receive the approval of those who wish to see the largest possible good done.

The question is not what is right, but what is LEGAL.

THE PROXY AMENDMENTS.

In the last issue of the Southern Optimist, G. W. Veditz expresses the opinion that the proxy vote amendments adopted at Colorado Springs were illegal on the ground that they were introduced at the convention before amendments, proposed by Mrs. Veditz, had been acted on. Will Mr. Veditx cite his authority for basing this claim of irregularity in the adoption of the proxy vote amendments?

A. W. W.

Veditz is correct.

MR. DRAKE, THE PROGRESSIVE.

Harley Drake of Ohio, has gathered all the deaf in his town together and formed a society, which he calls a branch of the National Association of the Deaf. Aside from Mr. Drake these people were not previously members of the national body.

This is a procedure which might be generally followed. Where there are already local societies of the deaf we would not recommend a new society but rather a society within a society.

Why not adopt the Tilden Plan at once?

PARLIAMENTARIAN.

BUREAU OF INDUSTRIAL STATISTICS

Bulletin No. 1.

To the Deaf and Others Interested in Industrial Statistics:—I have the honor to report that President Hanson of the National Association of the Deaf has approved the first semi-annual report of the Industrial Bureau under the present management, and the committee having charge of the Bureau, has been given a free hand to go ahead with the work as outlined in the official report and given to the public through the official organ, the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

I believe as did the late Hon. Grover Cleveland, that "A public office is a public trust," and therefore, I am going to take the public into my confidence by keeping in touch with the work being done by this Bureau. As I said in the official report, it will take time, and some money, to gather reliable Industrial Statistics and other items concerning the deaf that will be of some value in an educational and business way. I am willing to give the time gratis to this work but I do not feel it is the duty of this Committee to furnish the funds to carry out the project, although there is no doubt but that they will contribute their share. We cannot expect help from the N. A. D. as the treasury contains only sufficient funds for ordinary expenses. After giving the matter careful consideration, I have come to the conclusion that the best method to pursue, is to asked the deaf of the country and others interested in Industrial Statistics to furnish the money by popular subscription. I estimate it will require $500 to carry on the work in a systematic manner for the coming three years. With this amount I am confident we can secure figures on 75% of the deaf of the United States before the next convention of the National Association in 1913. The figures will not be held back until the next meeting however, but reports will be given out from time to time, say every six months. I hope in this way to keep up an interest in the work.

I want to make the Statistics interesting to the deaf and those interested in the education and welfare of the deaf. I want suggestions from all quarters on this matter, particularly as to forms. Send suggestions to me direct or through any of the school papers. There are subjects that should be covered that cannot be found in Government Statistics.

The deaf have a right to feel proud of the high position they occupy in the industrial world, but in, nine cases out of ten the hearing public has no true conception of the ability of the deaf in industrial lines, and it is only the very close friends of the deaf that know what they really can do. We want these figures to be a sort of a recommendation or entering wedge, and in time I hope to put the deaf right in the minds of the public. I want the figures to be reliable and exhaustive.

My aim in this matter is not personal, but to help advance the interests of the deaf of the greatest country on the globe. I want to see the deaf get a square deal.

This is the first gun of the campaign for bigger and better things for the deaf. With a little money we can bring other powerful guns into commission.

Success is in sight.

Will you help to fight the battle?

Will you stand by the flag?

I have faith that you will.

If you do not happen to be in touch with an authorized collector of the fund, send your contribution to me direct. Do not be afraid to contribute a small amount. The giving of a dime by one who can only afford to give a dime, is as good and great a deed as the giving of a million dollars by some fortunate philanthropist that has millions at his beck and call.

Every penny will expended in behalf of the cause for which it is asked. Possibly sixty per cent will go for postage and the balance for printing. Send all contributions to me. Quarterly statements of monies collected and expended will be published in the official organ. Subscription blanks will be out in a few days and State collectors appointed.

Yours for the advancement of the deaf,

LYMAN M. HUNT,
Director, Bureau of Industrial Statistics, N. A. D.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D.,
March 1, 1911.

Kalamazoo Wants the N. A. D. Convention.

The following is the text of a letter send out by the Mid-Western Association of the Deaf, which counts among its adherents nearly every prominent and progressive deaf-mute in the State of Michigan:—

KALAMAZOO, MICH., February 20, 1911.—At a special session held in the city of Kalamazoo on Dec. 31st, 1910, the Board of Managers of the Mid-West Association of the Deaf, by a unanimous vote, named Kalamazoo as the place for holding the secoud annual Tri-State Reunion and designated Nov. 22 and 23, 1911, as the dates; it was also ordered that an invitation be extended to all deaf-mutes residing in the northern part of Indiana and that of Illinois to spend the day in the beautiful city of Kalamazoo as our guests.

Among the many attractions already arranged for the entertainment of the visitors is an all-night dance in one of the auditoriums to which any one, both deaf and hearing, holding a ticket will be admitted. This ticket includes the turkey dinner to be served at midnight. The old-fashioned way of eating turkey at home with all the fuss and worry, is being discarded nowadays, and instead, the festival is celebrated in hotels, restaurants and cafes.

There's a reason. The cost of an ordinary Thadksgiving dinner cannot be less than $5.00, if the turkey is there. But the Kalamazoo deaf-mutes, by a secret mathematical problem of their own and in a way characteristic of Kalamazoo, are enabled to offer you a full meal with the genuine bird on the table for the small price of fifty cents. By deducting this price from your $5.00 dinner at home, there is a saving of $4.50, sufficient to pay the railroad fare both ways for some of you. Give your wife, mother, sister, and sweetheart a holiday on Thanksgiving day and let them enjoy themselves in Kalamazoo.

In addition to the dance and dinner the best speakers in our language will be engaged for the occasion. Indeed, nothing will be left undone to make the day one of pleasure and profit. After the celebration is over, there is our beautiful city to visit for which purpose an entertainment committee is provided.

The revenue derived from the sale of tickets will be devoted exclusively to paying expenses, and any unexpended balance to the credit of the Association will be voted away to charity.

The secretary will cheerfully answer all questions and will furnish all necessary information. Address all correspondence to

NOTICE.

The President of the National Association of the Deaf has placed me in charge of the work of suppressing "DEAF" IMPOSTORS. It is my experience that publicity is the best means of accomplishing the desired end. I would suggest that the deaf people in each community take the matter up with their Police officials, Municipal Judges and with the newspapers, explaining to them that it is practically an undisputed fact that EVERY person soliciting aid because of deafness is an IMPOSTOR. That those who do so on the ground of seeking funds to acquire an education ARE IMPOSTORS for the simple reason that the education of the deaf is not only FREE in every State of the Union but furthermore the several States provide free boarding schools

Wherever such impostors appear the deaf people of the community should have it understood that they are to be arrested and that the police authorities are to call in a competent person to question them and "show them up." When such an impostor is caught the public should be informed of the fact through the press and should have a little fun poked at them for being so gullible.

I have followed out this plan in Duluth to such good purpose that an impostor can ply his trade about twenty minutes before either being nabbed by the police or have my telephone bell ring calling me to some section of the city to interview a supposed "deaf" person. During the past few months I have had two men sent up for sixty days each and one fined and sent out of town. The last one had just come through Council Bluffs where he had the hardihood to visit the Iowa School for the Deaf, and had also visited Faribault where he was interviewed by a person familiar with the deaf. He evidently was the son of deaf parents and used the alphabet with ease and was quite proficient in signs. Although claiming to have been in the Berkeley School for but a year and a half and having been born deaf, his phonetic spelling would have "warmed the cockles of the heart" of Andrew Carnegie and other advocates of the system.

"The latest information is that there is a young woman going by the name of "Edith Lansing" who is handing out a card with three verses entitled "The Deaf Mute".

She was lately operating in Wadena, Minn. If met with, her case should be investigated. The first verse is:

"Young and almost rendered helpless
By misfortune's cruel way,
These few words I tender you
As a deaf-mute's plaintive lay."

I would request all who are interested in the suppression of this form of imposture to communicate with me and keep me posted as to the activities of such people in their sections, and I will try and assist them in the education of the public and take measures to notify the deaf to be on the look out for such impostors as are known to be operating.

It would be appreciated if every School Paper would take the matter up and urge their readers to take every measure possible to suppress the practice.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

"Spring has camed," and with it the advent of the National Game. And, talking of baseball, Gallaudet's going to have a peach of a nine this year. Captain Battiste, the only original full-blooded red Injun in captivity, has had his bunch of pill slingers a-romping on the grass of the campus, right in front of Faculty Row, driving the occupants of said Row to distraction with their ruthless murder of such bold bad blades o' grass as dare to show their imprudent heads.

Saturday afternoon, the redoubtable aborigine headed a bloodthirsty attack on the long deserted weeds of Garlic Field. Forgive our impetuous outburst of words, kind and gentle reader. Fact is, the display of talent and "baseballitis" then and there exhibited, has left our nerves in an exceedingly exuberant state and we can not resist the impulse to mount the minaret of the JOURNAL and proclaim to all men the fact that Gallaudet has a TEAM.

The line up of the varsity aggregation as tentatively chosen by Captain Battiste is: Craven, first base; Rockwell, catcher; Stevenson, second base; Roller, short stop; and Hower, third base, with Arras, Morris and Butterbaugh as outfielders. All of those are veterans save Stevenson, Roller and Butterbaugh. Stevenson will, we predict, prove the find of the season—a born fielder with an assortment of hot drives at bat. Blanchard will probably be assigned to a post in the outfield. To toss the merry sphere we have Battiste and Birck of last year's squad, with Moore, a promising youngster from the Sunflower State. Whoever is chosen for the permanent varsity nine, the second string men bid fair to have a successful season too. The first game for the varsity is schoduled for March 11th—a practice game with one of the Washington high schools.

Talk of Senior nights, the Class of 1911, sure has put the jinx on all preceding Senior meetings of the Lit. They entertained the members with a jim dandy program Friday, the 3d, in Chapel Hall.

Leslie A. Elmer led off with an essay, "The Work of the Pure Food Experts," delivered in clear and forceful signs. The close attention accorded the speaker was evinced by the fact that not once did the Secretary, then President pro temr., interrupt with a request that the audience be quiet, and by the round of applause that marked the close of the essay.

A farce, "Family Obstinacy," followed, with Messrs. Hower, Nies, Craven and Mosey, as the characters. It was humorous—at any rate, the chapel rang with handclaps, laughter—and Lapides, '13, had to be carried out to revive in the open air, so hard did he laugh.

A dramatic reading was next delivered in William-G.-Jones-que signs by E. D. Talbert—our Tabby of renown. All we've got to say 'bout it, is that it was a pity the real W G Jones could not have seen it. Mr. Morris closed the evening's entertainment with a declamation, "The Defence of the Alamo," that rivaled the best of the East Wing declamations. (Cheers!)

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Association, the basketball team's selection of William H. Arras, '12, as its captain for next year, was ratified. Lapides, '13, was chosen 1911-1912 basketball manager, with "Pat" Patterson, '14, as Assistant Manager.

From the Gallaudet Primer: See the Man! Yes, My Child, That is Bird Lee Craven. Is He a Bird? Yes, My Child, He is a Bird. But He has no Wings! He will get Them in the Sweet By-and-By. Why Does Bird Carry That Stick? That is a Baseball Bat, My Child. He Carries It because He Fears Its Disappearance. There are Naughty Boys Around who Will Swipe His Bat. And Bird Carries It Around to Swat Their Cocoanuts.

The S. N. D. C. is preparing to give another play March 11th. The last one, "The Freshman," was such a success that a play of like character though quite different plot has been chosen—"The Sophomore." With Birck as Main Squeeze, Talbert as Head Grand Pop, and Craven as Leading Greasy Grind, to say nothing of Struck, Eccentric Eccentricity, the play is bound to be a success. And when you add Teddy Hughes as "Violet"—well, we hate to say what will happen.

The campus is fast returning to its old, accustomed appearance. The warm weather of the past few days has tempted the fellows out of doors to play leap frog and Teddy Bear—Baiting, the latter a newly-invented game, known only to Gallaudetites. We may soon expect to see a large and gaudy line of hoisery displayed, mainly by Blanchard, '12, and Battiste, '13.

In the refectory the other day, Battiste, '13, declared that his death would be due to over-eating. Another fellow spoke up and said he'd starve to death, then another said Grace, '11, would die the first day he removed his bandage—he has been making free with us long enough, secure in the protection an injured hand gives him. But "the worm will toin."

The fellows are anxiously awaiting the approach of the camping season. Sad to say, there will be quite a number unable to go, for the baseball team will be kept in training and only given one day off—Ladies' Day at Camp.

Scranton, Pa.

Daniel Winters of this city, aged 41 years, was run down and instandly killed on the 24th of February at 3.30 P M by a Delaware & Hudson freight at the south valley crossing in Olyphant, while on his way from Peckville to Throop, in answer to a postal card announcing the death of his uncle, who died Wednesday. He was hurled a distance of sixty feet by the pilot of the engine. Both arms were broken, his skull fractured, and he sustained other injuries. He was taken to undertaker Sweeny's Morgue. His remains were taken to Hazleton on Sunday morning, where interment was made. He was educated at the Deaf-Mute Institute at the corner of Pine and Broad Street, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Elsie Schroeder, the niece of Miss Gussie Harper, who has been very sick, is improving slowly.

Miss Lulu Sorber, of Wilkes Barre, was a visitor at St Luke's Parish House on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Edith Palmer, of Blakely, who graduated at the Scranton Oral School last June, has been learning the dressmaking trade.

Rev. Mr. Smielau held services last Sunday. There was a good congregation that took much interest in his sermon.

Miss Elizabeth Swartz, of Carbondale, returned home after her stay at Scranton for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Roberts, where they stayed for a few days.

Miss Anna M. Garbett, who has been suffering from the effects of nervous prostration for a long time, is improving slowly.

We have Bible Class at St Luke's Parish House every Sunday afternoon.

The Deaf-Mute Literary Society holds meetings every month at the Parish House.

Miss Ada R. King, for many years a teacher in the Pennsylvania Oral School in Scranton, died last Wednesday at the home of her brother in Stamford, Ct. She left Scranton during the holidays to visit her relatives. While there, she was taken ill and never was able to make the return trip. She had friends in this city, and she rendered invaluable services to the school.

Altoona, Pa.

A surprise party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Saunders, of Gallitzin, Pa., Wednesday, in honor of the birthday of the former. As the day was also the anniversary of the natal day of the "Immortal George" the decorations were appropriate. The parlor was decorated with flags and red, white and blue, while an imitation cherry tree held the center of the dinner table. Some of the cakes were adorned with small silk flags and others with small paper hatchets. One big cake had Mr. Saunders' initials on it in red candy cherries.

The afternoon was spent in games. Dinner and supper were served to the guests.

Mr. Saunders received a large number of presents and post cards. Among the presents was a large framed picture of George Washington, trimmed with flags and hatchets.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Saylor and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. George Chathams and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Otto, Mrs. Eunice Campbell, Mrs. Emma Robb, Messers. Chas. Saunders, David Singerman, George Stevenson and James Butterbaugh, all of Altoona, Pa; Misses Ada Parks and Mary Henderson of Tyrone, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Saunders and daughter, Carrie, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Cheslock and daughter, Marie, Mrs. Carrie Williamson and son, Leroy, all of Gallitzin, Pa., A number of Johnstown, Greensburg and Braddock friends sent regrets.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

The Annual supper and Entertainment of the Woman's Parish Aid Society at St. Ann's Church, Wednesday evening, February 22d, was a complete success financially, socially and gastronomically. A trifle more than two hundred were present during the evening. To the credit of the young ladies who immured in the kitchen deftly manufactured a choice assortment of appetizing viands, be it said that no one was disappointed with the quality or quantity of the dainty, satisfying dinner served—certainly the pretty waitresses who shuffled the plates and pocketed the tips spurred the appetite and tickled the palate of more than one sour-faced dyspeptic Then to cap the climax of the evening's programme, two well-staged, cleverly acted farces, under the direction of Miss Louise E. Turner, were presented, and hugely delighted the critical audience. Under the deft touch of feminine hands, the crude, unsatisfactory scenery, was transformed into something closely approximating the artistic A few pictures, a table, a lamp, sofa and cushions, and a bit of carpet, and there you have the luxurious interior of a home. Lower another background, place a settee there and a chair here, and the lobby of a fashionable hotel is ready. By the same clever shifting of scenery in the second farce we behold a dining room. Oh! woman, lovely woman, what masterpieces you can envolve from a few sticks of wood, a couple of chromatic lithographs, and a few yards of gandy calico. When it comes to stage managing, mere man is abashed, confounded, annihilated.

There wasn't a dull moment during the presentation of the farces. With such scanty preparation as the limited time at her disposal allowed, Miss Turner worked wonders. Rehearsals are at best trying affairs, trying to the patience of the director and the participants, and no fair test of the ultimate success of a performance, lacking as they do the costumes, properties and scenery—and audience. So we do not begrudge a full meed of praise to the unsuspected talent lurking in Miss Louise, and we say if there is another theatrical entertainment to be pulled off at St. Ann's, we would very much prefer to have her pound the bovine volunteer material into things of beauty and delight. In the meantime we'll watch sharp. Frohman, Hammerstein, Belasco, keep off! The actors themselves have been abundantly complimented, to single out any particular one would be unfair, only let us remark, that we really don't blame Alice in "The Lunatic." Harry Bumpers was so realistic and withal so natural that Mrs. Shirkins certainly had to exert herself to set things right.

The next thing to attract friends of St. Ann's Church is Rev. Mr. Keiser's reading of Rider Haggard's great novel, "She," in the Guild Room, Saturday evening, March 18th. Admission, fifteen cents.

The call for a mass meeting at St. Ann's Church issued by a tentative Committee appointed by the Vicar, Rev. Dr. Chamberlain, resulted in fully a hundred representative deaf men gathering in the Guild Room of the Church, Tuesday evening, February 28th. After prayer by Rev. Dr. Chamberlain, Rev. Mr. Keiser mounted the platform, and plunged at once into the first number on the program.

In a carefully-veiled speech he tendered, in behalf of the gathering, the sincere felicitations of the numerous friends and well wishers to one who for over thirty years has been a faithful friend and loyal supporter of the cause of the deaf. The object of his remarks was smiling all the time, thinking Mr. Keiser was referring to Dr. Chamberlain. Finally Mr. Keiser let slip who it was, and the surprised wielder of the editorial pen, Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson, was called to the platform and presented with a handsome rosewood humidor and a box of the finest imported cigars, with congratulations of his friends on his 57th birthday. Mr. Hodgson, never at a loss for words, responded thanking the donors for their well wishes and assuring them of his appreciation of the unexpected kindness.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a discussion of ways and means to increase the Parish House Fund. Something was accomplished after all, and a committee appointed to arrange details. The report of the Treasurer shows a trifle over $10,000 yet remains to be collected. Much encouragment was felt over the report that several gifts of $5 and $10 had since been received.

Another meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 8th, when more of interest will be announced. Refreshments were served and a social time followed.

Housewarming was a function most brilliantly carried out at the rooms of the Union League last Saturday evening, in honor of the enlarging and furnishing of additional room leased by the Society. The rooms were filled to their utmost capacity with more than two hundred members and their invited guests, who came in full dress in almost every instance. After a majority of them arrived they took seats and listened to addresses of welcome from the president, Mr H. C. Dickerson, other officers and prominent guests. The president described the objects and purposes of the Society, its ideals and hopes in the future. He was followed by Mr. F. W. Nuboer, the Secretary of the Boord of Governors, who reviewed the early struggle of the Society and final successes. Mr. A. V. Ballin, the Secretary of the Society, read a letter from Mr. Samuel Frankenheim, who is now on his tour across the Continent and not expected back for two months or more. Mr. Frankenheim is unofficially the father of the society. He is one of the founders and he never misses an opportunity to do something for it wherever he may be, as attested by this letter, in which he notified the society that he has assumed all the expenses incurred by the changes, furnishings and other items caused by the enlargement of the premises. Mr. E. A. Hodgson, one of the honorary members, made a felicitions address in which he declared that, in his opinion, the club is the best of its kind in the world. After him came pleasant addresses by Rev. Mr. Boll, of Ohio, Rabbi Elzas, Mr. Ballin, Mrs. Souweine, Mr. Charles J. LeClercq and Mr. M. Loew.

Refreshments in abundance were served to all. Dancing was indulged in, and it was not until nearly two o'clock in the morning before the last guest departed. Among some of the remarkable features of the housewarming, it is reported that about ten new applications for membership were signed that evening. Another was the presentation to the society of an elegant nickel coffee urn, of three gallons capacity, by Mr. and Mrs. Felix Simonson. Another was a gift of a fine patent perpetual calendar from Mr. A V. Ballin.

Under the able management of the Entertainment Committee, headed by Mr. Emil Basch, a literary treat of unusual interest will be given by the Society, on the 16th of this month (admission, ten cents). The following is the program:

ESSAY, by E. Souweine.

DEBATE—"Is Co-operation more adapted to promote the Virtue, Happiness of Mankind than Competition?"
Affirmative, A. V. Ballin, J. B. Gass, substitute, S. Cohen. Negative, M. C. Kenner, C. LeClercq, substitute, Marx Levy.

"Marseillaise," sung in signs by Miss Viola P. Ballin.

Short Stories by members.

A whist party with prizes and refreshments, to which admission of thirty five cents will be charged will take place on the 25th inst.

Joe Schmidt, captain of the Xavier Club's basketball team, will on St. Patrick's Night, March 17th, once again marshal his warriors in a return game with the St. Joseph Quintet, and has hopes of bringing glory to the Cherry X contingent. The St. Joseph captain, however, is said to have lots of reserve among his selections, and a snappy contest is to be expected. A competent array of officials will be selected to see that only the best team wins. While this will be the main event, quite an interesting schedule of other contests are being arranged. A sack race, obstacle race and potato race, will afford plenty of excitement and some amusement. All the young men attending will be entitled to compete, no admission fee being charged for either event, and suitable prizes will be awarded first and second in each contest. Genial Hugo Schmidt, the track team captain, will have charge of the indoor races, and entries can be made with him on arriving at the club house. The intermission between the games and races will be utilized by some clever exhibitions in gymnasium work by club members and others.

The Chairman of the Committee on Entertainments at St. Ann's Church, wishes to announce the forthcoming reading by Rev. Mr. Keiser, on Saturday March 18th. The subject will be Rider Haggard's great novel, "She." There's thrill in every line. Haggard has written several novels, but none can compare with this maserpiece of imaginative literature. It is impossible to give even a bare outline of the story; better come and satisfy yourselves what it is about. As the proceeds of the lecture go to the Guild, and as everybody is aware of the good work the Guild is doing, for the funds of that organization cannot be used for other than charitable purposes, it is expected a large gathering will be present to show their sympathy with the benevolent and useful work. Rev. Mr. Keiser pretends to no dramatic skill on the platform, yet his style sign of delivery is probably the clearest and most forceful of our present day lecturers among the deaf. The admission to the reading is only 15 cents. Bring a friend with you so you can nudge him (or her) and compare thrills. If you cannot be present, send 15 cents to the Treasurer, Mr. A. C. Stern, care of Rev. Dr Chamberlain, 619 West 145th Street, just to show your good will and sympathy with the charitable workof the Guild.

The Banquet of the Acorn Club last November, at Moquins, on Fulton Street, proved such an enjoyable affair, that in December one of the members suggested that the club have a "stag" in February, and as a result, Mr. Calahan was appointed chairman, with Mr. McMann and Mr. Wolgamot as assistants, but it was chiefly through the efforts of Mr. McMann that the beautiful Kaiserhof on Broadway and Thirty-ninth Street, was chosen. On February 25th, all the boys were on hand as early as seven o'clock with an appetite. At 7:30 they sat down at a beautifully decorated table when the following menu was served:—

Grape Fruit Maraschino
Crab Meat Cocktail
Stuffed Celery — Pin Olas
Clear Green Turtle Soup
Lobster a la Newburgh en cases
Boiled Sweetbreads on Toast
French Peas
Aspragus Hollandanise — Punch
Roast Teal Duck
Kaiserhof Salad — Special Dressing
Fancy Forms — Walnut Tart
Cheese — Toasted Crackers
Private Estate Demi Tasse

Mr. McMann acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by Messrs. Ahmes, Calahan, Wolgamot, and Loew, A. Ernest, Rau, McGinnis, E. Earnst, Maxcey, Radcliffe, and Gloistein. Radcliffe and Flegenheimer are the two "latest members." The club will probably have several parties in the near future, and on May 30th, they expect to have an outing.

A new club has just been organized under the name of the Homewood D. M. A. C., and wishes to call attention to the following officers which have been elected:—Mr. Morris Weiner, President; Mr. George Gompers, Vice-President; Mr. Joseph Stamm, Secretary; Mr. Charles D. Seigel, Treasurer.

The Homewood D. M. A. C. is composed of athletic young men, who would like to hear from any young men, who would take an interest in the club, and who also can play a game of baseball very good, as they have openings on their team.

This club expects to arrange games with strong teams in Brooklyn, just as soon as the team is elected. Mr. Ely Mayers is manager.

Any young men wishing to join, can apply to Secretary Joseph Stamm, 1823 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Wednesday evenings Rev. Mr. Keiser will give a series of lectures on Church History, at St. Ann's Church. Mr. Keiser knows how to make his subject interesting, and he can be depended on to hold the attention of his audience. Arrangements are being made to repeat the lectures in Brooklyn and Newark. Due announcement of the dates for the lectures at these places will be made. At the conclusion of the series the stereopticon will be brought into use and and an illustrated review held. It certainly behooves all who care to know the reasons for being a Churchman to attend. The lectures are free and no restriction placed on attendance. Everybody is welcome.

Since the notice of Bishop Greer's intended visit to St. Ann's Church, on Sunday March 26th, fifteen have been enrolled in the Confirmation Class and more are expected. The clergy wish to urge upon all who have given the subject of Confirmation any thought, not to delay, but consult with Rev. Dr. Chamberlain or Rev. Mr. Keiser and they will be glad to render any assistance necessary. Besides booklets on Confirmation, instruction will be given on certain dates to be announced later. Rev. Mr. Keiser's address is 15 East 198th Street, New York City. The clergy can be seen at the Church Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The attendance at the early morning celebration of the Holy Communion on Ash Wednesday was larger than in former years. Rev. Mr. Keiser was at St. Mark's Church, Brooklyn, in the evening, where, after the Litany service, he delivered an address on "Repentance." At the Friday evening service at St. Ann's Church, Rev. Dr. Chamberlain began the first of a series of addresses on the "Men of the New Testament." The attendance was very encouraging. The addresses will continue every Friday evening during Lent. They are helpful and inspiring and should interest all who wish to profit by this Lenten season.

Henry Simmons, a well known colored deaf-mute of this city, died suddenly on Friday, March 3d, aged 78 years. He was a man of herculean frame in his younger days, and worked as a longshoreman. He and his wife, who survives him, were faithful attendants at St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes, both of them being at almost every service for the past thirty years. Rev. Dr. Chamberlain officiated at the funeral, which was held at his late home on Third Avenue, on Tuesday, March 7th.

Alfred B. Ernst is now located at Fifth Avenue and 22d Street, where, under the firm name of A. B. Ernst & Co., he is engaged in the manufacture of "High Art Novelties." He is doing a rushing business, and supplies many big stores in this and other cities with special and original lines of art novelties.

Mrs. H. C. Dickerson and daughter, Florence, spent the last ten days with her classmate at Mt. Airy, Miss Helen Wink, at Reading, Pa. They are now in Philadelphia where they will remain two weeks with Mrs. Dickerson's, sister.

Don't forget the dramatic reading of "Cymbeline," by Mr. L. A. Cohen, at Horton Hall, 142 West 125th Street, this Saturday evening, March 11th. It costs only twenty-five cents.

The father of Thomas J. Hunt died of apoplexy, on Thursday February 23d, aged 77 years. The remains were interred at Mt. Pleasant, N. J.

Charles Cooper, of Watertown, is in the city for a short stay.

Illinois Alumni Association

As already announced in the Advance of February, 11th the next reunion of the Alumni Association of the Illinois School for the Deaf will be held at the School, June 16-19.

The following named persons have accepted appointment on the Local committee of arrangements for the coming reunion:

William I. Tilton, Chairman; Asa Stutsman, Henry A. Molohon, Mrs. Henry A. Molohon, Miss Anna M. Nessel.

Every graduate of the Illinois School who expects to attend the reunion should send the membership fee of 25 cents to Mr. Molohon. School for the Deaf, Jacksonville, and should notify C. P. Gillett, Superintendent of the School, of intention to attend, not later than June 1st.

The names and addresses of graduates of the Illinois School for the Deaf are desired at once, and same may be sent direct to either Chairman Tilton or Treasurer Molohon of the local committee.

The reunion program and other information will be duly announced, hence the importance of a complete mailing list at an early date.

As the Illinois State Association of the Deaf is to meet at same place and on the same dates—but at different hours—as the Alumni Association, the coming reunion promises to be a part of the most notable gathering of the deaf in the history of the State.

The executive committee invites suggestions for the programme of the coming reunion, and the same should be addressed to the undersigned.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.

March 4,'11—Referring to the death, Orrin Frederick, mentioned in the JOURNAL, Mr. Wm Smith, of Youngstown, Ohio, sends us a clipping from his home paper giving fuller details of his death. He had recently been on a visit to Mr. Smith and his calls were much enjoyed as he brought news from places where he had been visiting. He was a good walker, going from place to place, generally on foot, and it is probable that finding the roads rather heavy, he took to the railroad track and thus met his end. He had told a friend that he was soon to be married and settle down as he had grown tired of going about.

Joseph Frederick and wife received the sad intelligence Tuesday morning from Oil City, Pa., announcing that their son, Orin J. Frederick, had been killed by a passing train near Emlinton station about six miles north of there on the Allegheny Valley Division of the P. R R., but no details were given The father, accompanied by A. L. Taylor, operator at the Erie station here, proceeded to Oil City to identify and claim the remains, which bore no marks of violence, excepting a gash above the right eye. W. E. Roller ordered a casket shipped from the factory to the morgue, and the body reached here Wednesday afternoon by way of Y. & S. electric line. Orin J. Frederick was born Jan. 24, 1878, and was a therefore a little past 33 years old. He was a graduate of the Ohio School for the Deaf-Mutes at Columbus. He was a fair sample physical perfection; was active and energetic, played ball with the Washingtonville team here last summer. And notwithstanding he was mute, he traveled much by himself and kept in communication with the other graduates of his class He worked upon the World's fair buildings at St. Louis, and at various vocations at Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Salem and elsewhere. A few days before his death he started for Cleveland to invest in a Florida realty company, and his reason for going to Emlinton, was to visit a lady acquaintance whose parents first recognized the body, says the Oil City Blizzard of Tuesday, which gives the following particulars: "The body was found by the crew of an extra freight in charge of Conductor Mock of this city. It passed that point at 11 o'clock. Frederick's watch stopped at 9:41 and that is the time the second section of the passenger train passed. The body was about three feet from the outside rail, with the head toward the river. Both hands were thrown backward and there was every indication he had been struck by the train and thrown some distance. His cap was found 10 feet south of the spot where the body lay and a pair of overshoes he had wrapped in a paper and was carrying were lying 20 feet north of the cap." Besides his parents he is survived by on brother, Ira L. Frederick, in the employ of Adams Express Co. at Alliance. Relatives desire to express their gratitude to the Oil City officials for their courteous treatment when identifying the body and shipping the remains here. Funeral services were conducted at the home of his parents at 1 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. C. R. Isley, followed by interment in Oakland cemetery, west of town.

Miss Amy A. Hare, a pupil of the School here from 1857–1864, and a sister of Mrs. Amos Eldridge, of Spring Hill, Kansas, died January 19th, of pneumonia.

She was a schoolmate of Mr. Nathan R. McGrew, of Gilman, Iowa, and was sixty-seven years of age at time of death.

Mr. Conrad Zorbaugh, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was given a birthday postal card shower last month. Over 80 messages bearing good wishes greeted him on the anniversary of his birthday.

The Columbus Advance Society held its monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, and listened to reports from the Chairman of the several Committees in charge of the late Valentine social. The net receipts from the affair were $74.02. A vote of thanks was tendered to those who in any way contributed to the booths. It was decided to give three dollars to the Children's Tuberculosis School Fund. Mr. Wm. Toomey was admitted to membership, and Messrs. Mayer, Schwartz and McMurray were made a committee to decide upon a place for the Society's annual supper. In the absence of the president, Mr. Hitchcock, Harley Goetz presided. After the meeting, the Beneficial Branch of the Society convened Mr. Neuzling was made chairman, Messrs. Charles and Zorn, secretary and treasurer respectively, both were re-elected.

The visiting committee for the year is composed of Messrs. Showalter, Clum and Hitchcock.

The Cleveland Association of the Deaf held its election, last Saturday evening. Mrs. Elmer E. Bates was honored with a re-election by acclamation.

The other officers chosen are :

First Vice-President.....David Friedman
Second Vice-President.....Fred C. Krull
Third Vice-President.....E. R. Carroll
Secretary.....C. R Neillie
Treasurer.....Thos. McGinness
Historian.....Herman Koelle
Program Chairman.....Fred C. Ross
Visiting Chairman....Mrs. Wm. Kleinhaus
Marshal-Custodian.....John Miller
Counsel J. C. Logue

A middle-aged man stating he was unable to work, was playing deaf and dumb and soliciting money from the residents of Gleuville, a suburb of Cleveland, last Saturday. The authorities were on the lookout for him, and he has no doubt been taken in.

Miss Anna O. Hoeffler, one of the teachers of the school, was married Tuesday morning, to Mr. Harry Everett Schmidt of Marrietta. The ceremony took place at the Cathedral Parish in this city. Her associates in the school gave her a silver coffee urn and salver as a souvenir of their good will and esteem.

Hazel, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. King, is quite sick with typhoid pneumonia, but the doctor hopes to pull her through. The father of Miss Bessie Edgar has also been quite sick for a week, and to add to her woes her brother has been ailing for some time. Her father has reached fourscore and ten, and hence his advanced age is somewhat against him in the sickness he is battling with, la grippe. We hope, however, he will recover.

Messrs. E T. King and Elmer Elsey interested the residents of the Home for Aged Deaf, with a talk Sunday. Miss Lucy Williams was also up on a visit. Aviston Evarts, who had been in care there for several years, was taken home, Cleveland, by his brother a couple of weeks ago, and placed under the care of a physician, who hopes to overcome the malady of which the man was suffering.

Mr. W. S Hostetler, Wadsworth, Ohio, wants a deaf-mute job printer, one who understands the work. A notice to that effect was sent to Superintendent Jones, asking if he could find one for him. Here is a chance for a good printer to secure a job.

The second O. S. S. D. team played with the Bexley team late Saturday, but was beaten in a close score 25 to 23.

Wedding in Boston.

WYAND — SIMMONS.

On the evening of March 2d, 1911, at the home of the bride's parents, Col. and Mrs. Walter E. Simmons, a wedding of unusual interest took place, when Miss Kate Burham Simmons became the bride of Rev. Ezra Clayton Wyand, Minister to the Deaf.

Only the nearest relatives and most intimate friends were present. Rev. Duncan MacPhie, D. D., Secretary of the Evangelical Alliance of Greater Boston, assisted by Rev. Carl Horst, of Wollaston, performed the ceremony.

The rooms were tastefully trimmed with palms, cut flowers, and the large staircase was a mass of smilax.

Promptly at eight o'clock the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March" were heard, and a niece of the bride, acting as flower girl, dressed in pink, carrying a basket of pink sweet peas, descended the stairs to the parlor, followed by the bride on the arm of her father.

The bride was charmingly robed in white satin entrain' with bridal veil, carrying a large shower bouquet of white sweet peas.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the guests proceeded to the dining-room, where dainty refreshments were served, after which Rev. and Mrs. Wyand left for a brief wedding trip.

Mrs. Wyand is a graduate of the Horace Mann School, and of the Boston School of Normal Arts. Rev. Wyand graduated from the Gallaudet College in Washington, D. C., and for the past two years, has been minister to the deaf at the First United Presbyterian Church of Boston.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Wyand were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents, and they have the best wishes of their friends for a long and happy life.

Cured and Killed by a Fall

MONTCELLI, N. Y., February. 17. —Physicians here are holding an autopsy to-day in the strange case of Joseph White, seventy years old, who had been deaf and dumb for twenty years, but was cured of both ailments by a fall.

White, who lives at Englehart, fell on the ice a few days ago and was seriously injured. When he regained consciousness he found that his speech and hearing had returned.

"When I fell something in my head snapped like the crack of a whip," he said. He was unable to give a further explanation of the queer cure, for his injuries proved fatal.

Mrs. Frances A. Carpenter, the mother of Belle Carpenter, died at her home in Port Ewen, February 22d, 1911, after a long illness.

ST. LOUIS

J. H. May,— 5851 Von Versen Ave. St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Edward Schlo has just recovreed from a severe attack of grip and pneumonia, which confined her to bed for three weeks.

Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle has been very hard of hearing for several years. It is getting so that he may become deaf altogether. The Bishop is well known and popular in local deaf circles. Deafness is due to infirmities of age.

Oscar Bloch (our rising nimrod) departed last week with his faithful dog and trusty Winchester for Kampville, Mo. Returning from the happy hunting grounds, Oscar bagged sixty-eight fine ducks. He is a sure dead shot.

Mesdames John Hutsel, of Montgomery City, Mo., and J. C. Flood, of Washington, D. C., were in the city recently visiting relatives and friends. Both ladies being sisters, are mourning over the death of their aged father, Mr. Fleihman, of High Hill, Mo., who was thrown off his horse and killed. After one week's stay they left for their respective homes.

After one month's stay in St. Louis Mrs. W. H. Laug, of Fulton, Mo., departed for her home on the 25th ult. We trust she will visit us again soon

Last Friday Mrs. Edward Schlo departed for Caseyville, Ill., where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haig on business as well as for pleasure.

Recently there was a widespread rumor to the effect that Jesse Bryant, of near Ferguson, Mo., was run over and killed on the trolley tracks in St Louis County. Now we understand that Mr. Bryant was not killed, but only injured by being struck by the cars. After being knocked down he was conveyed to the City Hospital, where after a season he was sent to his home. He resides with his wife and two children in his own house near Ferguson, Mo., and formerly came from Tennessee.

Samuel Beck recently returned from an enjoyable trip to Poplar Bluffs Mo., where he went to see his beloved daughter, aged four years. He is a widower, as his wife died suddenly a few weeks ago.

Ye scribe received a postal card from A. E. Arnot, of Spokane, Washington State, inquiring for the whereabouts of his cousin, George W. Arnot. Well, George W. Arnot is still alive and well. He was stopping at the Merchants' Hotel. He is employed by the Ornamental Glass Company.

Harry Cupps (formerly of Iowa), departed last month for Chicago, Ill., where he went to accept a job with his old firm. We understand he is well satisfied, as he receives better wages.

Friends of Mr. C. L. Minor, of Independence, Mo., will regret to learn of his death, which occurred March 2d, at his home in that city He had long been in poor health, and the end had been looked for at any time. At the request of his wife, Rev. J. H. Cloud, of this city, was summoned to preach the funeral sermon. A hearing preacher was also engaged. An interpreter interpreted to both sides of what Rev. Mr Cloud and the hearing preacher said. Mr. Minor was a product of the School for the Deaf at Fulton, being an early-day pupil. After school he married a deaf girl, who inherited a large fortune from her father. He is survived by his wife and two children. Mrs. Minor was considered to be the richest woman in Independence, Mo.

Sunday afternoon, February 26th a birthday suprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Theurer. It was in honor of the natal day of Mrs. Theurer.

Although her birthday occurred last November, the event had been unavoidably deferred to this late date. On account of the great popularity of Mrs. Theurer, she having always taken much interest in matters pertaining to the welfare of the deaf, her friends wanted to show their gratitude to her.

After all the invited guests had arrived, Mr. G. D. Hunter mounted a stand and summoned Mrs. Theurer to step forward, and in well chosen words, he explained to her the purpose of the gathering. At the close of his say, he handed her a big bundle. She was ordered to unpack it. On opening it she was much surprised as well as pleased at the kind remembrance of her friends. She returned her thanks and said she would remember this happy event for the balance of her natural life.

These ladies composing the junketing searched the downtown district most of the afternoon, looking for the best present they could find. Finally they were rewarded in selecting a dinner-table set of one hundred prices. The ladies were Misses Molloy, Thompson and Ella Dillon.

Those who contributed towards the happy event were: Messrs. and Mesdames Berwin, Stafford, Hammer, Schneider, Wootten, Brunning, Bajon, Burgherr; Misses Dillon, Stocksick, Molloy, Lithgoe, Mahon, Krueger, Getters, Thompson, Voigt, Lacnover, Sliver; Mesdames, Campbell, Eubanks, Stocksick, Udale, Klegmann; Messrs. Hunter, Hufnagel, Alt, Beck, Toma, Dolan, Ifland, Arnot.

During Rev. Mr. Cloud's absence, Mr. A. O. Steidemann conducted the Public Opinion reading at 1210 Locust Street.

From a local paper the following is clipped: "Charles Faith a deaf-mute residing in Carondelet, who has never been in school, and so cannot read or write, was arrested and fined ten dollars and costs by Judge Kleiber the other week.

"Miss Rose Smith, residing near him, was the chief witness. She complained that Faith had a way of following her home from her work. One evening he walked up and took her by the arm. She turned and slapped him

"He ran and picked up a rock and so did I. His rock didn't come near me but mine didn't miss his head more than an inch.

"The mute tapped his forehead and looked knowingly at the Judge, while this testimony was being given. He tried unmistakably to give the impression that Miss Smith was not responsible for what she did.

"Office Lambert witnessed the rock-thowing part of the combat and testified. Faith shook his head vigorously, trying by signs to make Judge Krieber understand that Lambert had it in for him anyhow. He was arrested and fined ten dollars and cost on charge of disturbing the peace."

P. S.—We regret to say that Charles Fath is a handsome deaf-mute, aged about thirty-eight years, who does not associate with us. He is a day laborer, and wears rather swell clothes. It is a great pity that his parents refused to allow him to attend school in his young and tender years.

Sunday afternoon, March 12th, Rev. Mr. Schubkegel will conduct Divine services for us at 2005 Benton Street. All the deaf are cordially welcome: Services begin at three o'clock sharp.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Carlisle, Pa., Evening Sentinel, February 27th, 1911, contained the following death notice :—

"Miss Elizabeth B. Ziegler died this morning about two o'clock at her late residence, 118 W. Louther Street, after an illness extending over a year. Her sufferings were borne with a resignation which only a sincere Christian belief can give. She was a member of the First Lutheran Church and for fourteen years was leading soprano in the choir of that church where, by the charm of her voice, she lent added interest to the services.

"One sister, Miss Laura, of Carlisle, and two brothers, Robert M., of Philadelphia, and John, of Brooklyn, survive.

"The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock from her home and services were conducted at the house by Rev. H. B. Stock, of the St. Paul Lutheran Church and Rev. Alexander McMillan of St. John's Episcopal Church.

"The pall bearers were R. H. Conlyn, Charles T. Cornman, Chas. F. Humrich, George Bixler, Dr. M. L. Emrick, and J. W. Plank. Interment was made in Ashland Cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful."

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ziegler left Philadelphia for Carlisle on the same day the death occurred and remained away until the following Sunday. They and the family have the sincere sympathy of a large number of friends.

The Ash Wednesday service at All Souls' Church was very well attended. Rev. Mr. Dantzer's address was on Judas, or Temptation, which was illustrated by stereopticon views, and thus made doubly interesting. Other addresses like it will follow every Wednesday evening during Lent. All are welcome to attend these services.

Some time ago a rumor was circulated to the effect that Mr. Wm. Grime, formerly of this city, had died. Inquiry as to the truth of it was made by a friend, Mr. Harry F. Smith, and it has just been learned that it was another person by that name and not our William, who is alive and well, and lives with his family in Deer Isle, Maine.

In giving the list of costumed persons at the Fancy Dress Party at All Souls' Hall last week, two names were accidentally omitted. They were Mrs. Elmer E. Scott, dressed as a dude, and Mrs. Laura Pennell, as a Japanese lady.

Mrs. Harry Dickerson, of New York, is visiting her folks in this city, and was seen al All Souls' on Sunday afternoon.

At the meeting of the Clerc Literary Association last Thursday evening, Mrs. Geo. T. Sanders entertained the members with "Some Queer Familiar and Unfamiliar Things." Her batch of subjects contained the following :— "The Shaddock," "Seven Bibles of the world," "Gates for the Panama Canal," "Lifting the Hat," "The Fly's Ability to Walk on the Ceiling," "The Milky Way," "Meerschaum," "The Largest Telescope," "Habits of Salmon," "Our Calendar," "The Christmas Tree," "The Smoke Boat of China," "Amber," "Ambergris," "A Pearl," "Mother of Pearl," "The Aurora Borealis."

Mrs. Fell, of Wilimington, Del., was entertained by the Koenig family over Sunday.

Although Mr. Frank Dupee, a foreign deaf-mute, has lived here for the past nine years, he has only very recently come into touch with All Souls' Church and its people.

Two of our people, Mrs. C. B. Stilwell and Miss Ruth Cowan, are quite seriousty ill at this time. Mr. Caesar Leisersohn is also in failing health.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCarthy are rejoicing over the arrival of a boy in their home, on February 24th, 1911. Congratulations !

Miss Katie Moyer has our heartfelt sympathy in the death of her mother, Mrs. Sophia Moyer, who died on February 21st. On account of her deafness, the maternal parent was deeply attached to her daughter, who with one hearing sister survives her.

Mrs. Moyer also lost a sister by death in February, and Mrs. Delp, a cousin, Dr. Kelly, who was a promising physician. Both deaths occurred in this city.

The Merrymaker's Club is trying its best to give a fine pantomimie entertainment for the benefit of the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf, on May 6th next. We hope that it will be largely patronized by the friends of the Home.

We would call attention to the lecture on "Nature" with over fifty living subjects, by Mr. Edward Burlingham Schurr, the naturalist of Newark, N.J., at the Germantown Y. M. C. A. Building, 5849 Germantown Ave., on Saturday evening, March 18th. This lecture is expected to be of unusual interest and one well worth attending. It is for the hearing as well as for the deaf, so a special effort should be made to bring hearing people to it. The proceeds of that lecture will be given to the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf, so help the object by your attendance and by bringing as many friends as possible.

German Methods.

J. Pierpont Morgan told a story after his last return from Europe that well illustrates the make-up of some of the automatons found in commercial life—men who do just what they are told to do, nothing more or less, faithful, honest, methodical, the despair of every office and store.

"I had often heard of the literal quality of the German mind," said Mr. Morgan, "and while in Berlin I had a personally delivered sample of it one morning. I went to a jeweler's store to buy a souvenir spoon. Selecting the one I wanted, I wrote on a piece of paper the inscription I wished engraved on a bowl, 'Berlin, 1907.' As I started to leave the store the German clerk called me back and asked for a deposit. I gave him a mark, making note of the fact on the paper upon which I had written the inscription.

"When I called for the spoon next day it bore neatly lettered on the bowl these words: 'Berlin—1907—Paid One Mark.'"—Ex.

A somewhat different experience with German exactness is the case of a post-card dealer at Greensburg.

As everybody in Indiana knows (and many outside of the State) Greensburg, the County-seat of Decatur County has a natural curiosity that has made it famous. This is a maple tree growing in the cupola of the court house.

The post card dealer referred to sent a picture of this phenomenon to Germany to have some post cards made, the best post cards supposedly being "made in Germany."

He got his cards in due time, but the tree "that made Greensburg famous" was not in the picture, and of course the cards were practically worthless.

The German lithographer, however, was careful to send with the shipment a statement that by some trick of the camera, the picture from which he worked had shown a tree growing in the tower and that he had removed it, as the cards would show, as it was evidently a mistake, but that he had charged nothing extra for doing so!

PITTSBURG.

On February 18th, a party of friends gathered secretly in the parlor of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bellows, to surprise Mrs. Bellows, on her birthday. She was ushered into the parlor, and was so surprised to recognize friends around her, when the lights were turned on. Heartfelt congratulations followed. Rev. Mr. Allabough made a speech on the behalf of the party and presented Mrs. Bellows a fine watch-chain A pretty mirror from Mrs. Feine, of Youngstown, O., and a box of candy from Mr. R. Brownell, of Rhode Island, were the other presents. Mrs. Bellows' husband presented her a fine bed-suite. Mrs. Bellows made a few remarks, thanking the party for their kindness and remembrances. Then the fun began. Several amusing games were played and refreshments were present:—

Mrs. Feine, of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bulger, of Ambridge, Mrs. V. G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. A. J Stonerod, Rev. Mr. Allabough, L. Schulte, J. W. Atcheson, Mr. and Mrs. H Danver, Miss M. Wagner, Lester Brownell, Miss P. Bolton, A. J. Stonerod, and F. A. Leitner.

At Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian Lecture Room, on February 21st, a large gathering of people celebrated Washington's birthday. H. B. McMaster gave some facts of Washington's efforts in capturing Fort Pitt and Fort Duquesne, and also described some noble traits of his character during the Revolutionary War. He was followed by Jesse W. Baker, who had the "Deaf of To-Day" as his subject.

Rev. Allabough had some few remarks to make, and Miss E. Boyd, as usual declaimed beautifully the "Star Splanged Banner," with Misses Nolan and Kaiser waving the United States flag during the chorus.

The rest of the evening was given to social purposes, until the dainty refreshments were served by the ladies of the Mission. It was a pleasant affair, enjoyed by all who were present.

Madame Rumor hath it that the Mr. John McDonough, of Reading, Pa., is expected to visit this city for a short stay to bid "good-byes" to his relatives and friends, before he starts for California where he is going to locate on a farm. His family will accompany with him. Mr. and Mrs. Besselman (Miss Elizabeth Escherick) are expecting to take a trip with them to California, where they will buy a farm. His absence from Pennsylvania is a loss to the Pennsylvania Society for the Deaf, but we wish them all good luck and success.

Frank Holliday, '10, of Gallaudet College, had reasons for gratitude for the removal of the law which prohibited the employment of deaf-mutes in the Post Office Department. Recently he passed the Civil Service examinations, and now he was appointed as a mail clerk in the North Diamond Post office in his city. Frank is happy.

Rev. Mr. Smielau stopped off in this city on February 12th, and held the evening services at St. Margaret's Mission at Trinity Parish House. He kept a large attendance interested in his subject, "Business." Rev. Mr. Allabough assisted him. Rev. Smielau will come back to this city for a lecture on April 22d, and will hold services the next day.

Keep the date in your hat, that Mr. Odebrecht, teacher at the Columbus (O.) School for the Deaf, will appear for a lecture at Grant Street Reformed Presbyterian Lecture Room, on Saturday evening, March 18th, 1911. Everybody should take an opportunity to meet Mr. Odebrecht, who is admitted as among the best interpreters in the country.

After a successful season, the Silent Five closed the basket-ball season by defeating Sheridan, 22 to 19, in a very fast and interesting game. The features were the shooting of Dunn and Gates. Line up:—

The Pittsburg Local Branch, P. S. A. D., at their hall, had a masquerade on February 25th, and a large crowd turned out, but only a few were seen in masque, but it was a perfect success in every respect. There were several prizes offered. The judges were: Mrs. Chestnut, Miss Britton and Pete Gilloly, who awarded the prizes to the satisfaction of all. For the "Original Costume," Royal Durian got a prize, pocket-book; and Miss Grow, a chatelene bag. As the "Most beautiful," Miss L. Huetter won the prize, a three pound box of candy; and Mr. Bardes, a necktie.

For the "Most Comic," Mr. Reiser, a knife; and Miss Butler, a pair of suspenders. For the most characteristic, Mr. Geo. Grimm, sugar-bowl and pitcher; Mrs. W. L. Sawhill, a dainty apron. For the "Booby prizes—"Two photographs went to M. Blair, and a set of Japanese Cups, to Vincent Dunn.

Those in costume were:

"Inmate of the Doylestown Home, J. K. Forbes; "Cow-Girl of Wyoming", Mrs McCraken; "Postage-stamp" Boy, Royal Durian; "Japanese Twins," Misses T. and E. Boyd; Miss Pittsburg, Mrs W. L. Sawhill; "Convict 999," Geo. Davies; "Black Diamond Girl," Miss Grow; A Lady, Miss Huetter; Miss Valentine, Miss Falck; Rider riding a horse, Chas. Reiser; Mother Topsy, Miss Renker; Little Topsy, Miss M. Butler; Country Lassies, Misses Appel and M. Snyder; "Paper-Beggar Man," M. Blair; "Bum-Woman," Vincent Dunn; "Uncle Sam," H. Bardes; Miss "Columbia" of Africa, G. F. Grimm; "Crazy pieces Man," F. Leitner.

The center of attraction fell upon Royal Durian, who was dressed in Chinese dress, entirely covered with 9000 cancelled stamps. Mrs. Durian made the costume. Mr. Grimm, dressed as a negress in bunting, was mostly admired by all on account of his giant stature.

The ladies of the Ways and Means Committee served all with cones of ice cream and cakes. All declared that it was a good masquerade party. About $25.00 was realized.

Mr. Durian, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, announced that a play had been decided upon for Saturday evening, March 11th, at the Pittsburg Local Branch Hall, in Washington Street Bank Building, and will celebrate St. Patrick's Day. There will be lots of fun and all people should not miss seeing the play.

Rarely, indeed, has St. Margaret Mission at Trinity Parish House been called upon to record the loss of a member, whose qualities of heart and mind were so clearly and justly recognized by the congregation as in the case of our dear friend and pastor, Rev. Austin W. Mann, who died on January 20th. The memorial services were held last Sunday in honor of the late Rev. Mann, and were attended by a large assemblage. Rev. Mr. Allabough conducted the services, and a few remarks were made by Mr. F. Leitner, and Mr. Col Sawhill about Rev. Mann. Rev. Mr. Allabough eulogized the character and missionary work of Rev. Mann. Mrs. W. F. Durian recited the "Rock of Ages."

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

A surprise party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur North, at their home on Adams Street. The party was planned by Mr. Ira Todd and Robert Hogan. Twenty-four guests were expected, but owing to illness and exceedingly unpleasant weather, only fourteen were able to be present. Among the guests were Miss Van Ingen and Miss Meigs. Delicious refreshments were served, Mrs. Todd, of Pittsford, having provided the ice-cream and cake for the occasion.

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association met last Tuesday at the home of Mr. Clayton McLaughlin, on Aldine Street. Some important business was transacted, which will be announced later. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Arthur North.

Mr. Harry Lovell, who was operated upon for appendicitis at the General Hospital, was allowed to leave. He called in this city that day, and his friends were glad to see him so far on the road to recovery.

Miss Estella Satterthwaite, who for the past 18 years has been a valued and much beloved teacher in the Western New York Institution for the Deaf, died in this city early this morning of pneumonia. She leaves a mother and a sister, Mrs. Dr. Francis Leslie, both of Toledo, Ohio. Miss Satterthwaite, for the greater part of the time she has been connected with the Deaf-Mute Institution, was a teacher of the sciences. For the last year she has been in the kind ergarten department. A funeral service will be held at the home of Miss Lucy Beck, 1,146 St. Paul Street, at four o'clock this afternoon.—Rochester Times, Feb. 4.

Let all of us Rochesterians starts up talking to have the Empire State Association of the Deaf hold a convention here this summer. The Monroe County Deaf will show them the best they can to please them. Let the E. S. A. decid eto come!

The writer is going to his home in Clifton Springs, this week, to spend a few days with his mother.

MUTE FAILS TO SAVE HUSBAND.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Saturday—Frantically trying to tell her neighbors that her husband was dying from a self-inflicted wound, Mrs. John McElvilly, a deaf-mute, failed in her effort and her husband, also a mute, died before a physician could be told what happened.

Recently McElvilly was held as a suspected lunatic, but was released. In a fit of temporary insanity the man rushed to his room to-day and cut his throat with a razor. The wife witnessed the act.—N. Y. Herald.

FANWOOD.

The high standard of the readings and dialogues given before the Fanwood Literary Association continues undiminished. The Fourth Female Grade, who presented an excellent program last Saturday evening, proved that though somewhat amateurs, they could do as well as any other higher-standing classes.

To elucidate on the program is unnecessary, it being below appended, and if any literary critic was shown it, we feel confident he would take off his hat in respect.

DECLAMATION—"Mother Earth's Carpet," by Miss Dorothy Nimmo.
READING—"Little Gretchen," by Miss May Ruhl.
READING—"The Prisoners' Friend," by Miss Ida Schulte.
READING—"How Bobby Punished the Baker," by Miss Evelyn Moose.
READING—"The Wreck of the Hesperus," by Miss Mary Gilmour.
READING—"The Stolen Little One," by Miss Nadine Bowman.
READING—"Napoleon and the Sailors," by Miss Jananita Millington.
READING—"Elsie's Good Fortune," by Miss Goldie Rosenwaki.
READING—"The Pond Lilies," by Miss Emily Skoien.
DIALOGUE—"At College."
A servant Miss N. Bowman
A teacher Miss E. Moose
Misses Hertz and Berg, (two college girls)....Misses M. Ruhl and J. Millington
A farmer girl.....Miss M. Gilmour

The interest shown in basketball is beginning to wane. The first "teeney weeney" sign of Spring will cause the adherents of the quintets to stampede for their baseball paraphernalia. Last week the baseball uniforms were exhumed by the enthusiastic supporters of the bat and ball, and sent to the laundry to be washed.

Our budding artists, Walter Kadel and Henry Brauer, have for the past week been making cartoonistic sketches of their brother-members of the Protean Society. Public opinion has suppressed them for the time being.

Several lovers of Art and the unique have visited the Russian Exhibit at the Museum of the American Numismatic Society. One of them saw Prince Troubetzkoy, a leading Russian sculptor, who had many samples of his work in the collection.

Our well-known compatriot, Cadet Sergeant-Major Harry Goldberg, posed for a battery of cameras a week ago. Extreme difficulty was gone through in order to get him located in the finder.

Editor Hodgson reached another birthday anniversary on Tuesday, February 28th. Throughout the day he was congratulated and wished many more such anniversaries, both by a long line of persons and numberless picture post cards. In token of their remembrance, the Printer Apprentices presented him with a brass adjustable cigar stand and ash receptacle, while at a surprise given him at St. Ann's Church in the evening, he received a humidor and a large box of perfectos. The weight of years does not seem to press heavily on the Editor, he being hale and hearty and chipper as a lark, though he has made more than a double Marathon in the milestones of life.

The following is cut from the Arkansas Optic, published at the Little Rock School for the Deaf, in reference to a paragraph of some time ago:

"The Fanwood correspondent of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL locates Mr. Frank Lux 'in the wild and woolly wastes of Arkansas.' We are too near New York to be called that, as places less than 2000 miles away feel its refining influence."

Cadet Adjutant Walter Kadel has of late developed an extraordinary fondness for fresh air and exercise. That, laudable in itself, would be very commendatory of him if he would only localize his ideas on his own person, but that individual persists in preaching his doctrine to the whole Protean Society. One can hardly sit in peace and read on a clear day, but in comes Walter with a long list of diseases known to have been directly traced to reading when it's nice outside.

Mrs. Currier and her niece, Miss Lewis, sailed for Tampa, Florida, on Saturday last.

Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop, Chairman of the Executive Committee, inspected the Trades' Schools on Monday afternoon.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The March meeting of the National Literary Society occurred on the 2d inst. Mr. R .E. L. Nicholson was the lecturer of the evening. His subject was "Death and Fame," and he told of various famous men whose death occurred, in his opinion too soon, too late, or at just the right time.

Then came a debate by Messrs. G. O. Erickson and H. C. Merrill, on the question as to whether the present form of the government of the District is preferable to that of a State. Mr. Erickson pointed out the good features of the present system, while Mr. Merrill called attention to its defects and shortcomings. The debate emphasized the fact that, while the way in which the District of Columbia is governed has some serious faults, on the whole, the system is an admirable one.

Next on the program was a well signed declamation, "The May Queen," by Miss C. E. King. The announcement of the program for the April meeting completed the regular program, but, it being still quite early, Mr. W. E. Marshall volunteered to give a short account of his recent trip to the South.

The Pantomime Play and Oyster Supper given by the members of the St. Barnabas Mission, on February 25th, was an unqualified success.

By eight o'clock, the time at which the play was to begin, nearly every seat in the large Parish Hall of the Church was filled and more people kept coming in all through the play. The dramatic part of the entertainment was under the direction of Mr. W. E. Marshall, who was also the author of the plays. First came a laughable shadow play, so well acted that every move was easily understood by every one in the mixed audience. This was followed by two short farces. It would take too much space to give a detailed description of the play, and it must suffice to say that every part was well acted and the play much enjoyed by the audience.

The Supper, with a big "S" and plenty of good things to eat, came next. The number of people was so large that it was impossible to serve all of them at one time, but there was an ample supply of eatables and no one had to go home hungry. It being an oyster supper, fried oysters was the principal thing on the bill of fare, supplemented by the usual "trimmings" to an affair of that kind.

Great credit is due the members of the Mission and their friends, who worked hard to make the affair a success.

The District of Columbia Branch, of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Erickson, the evening of March 1st, to elect officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows: President, Mr. A. D. Bryant, '82; Vice-President, Mr. R. J. Stewart, '99, (re-elected); Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. W. E. Marshall, '04, (re-elected).

A number of other matters having been attended to, the work of the meeting was over and the members were free to devote the rest of the evening to conversation and to the enjoyment of the delicious ice-cream and cakes provided by Mrs. Erickson. Mrs. J. W. Michaels and her two daughters, Mr. F. W. Booth, of the Volta Bureau, and Miss S. L. Dailey, were invited guests at the meeting.

Scarcely a month passes that Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Edington do not do something to improve their home. About two years ago they purchased an unattractive-looking frame house occupying two large lots, but since then they have gradually changed the appearance of the place so that the former owners would now scarcely recognize it. New porches, paint, new plumbing, new stoves, new stairway, new wall paper, etc., have effected a great change for the better in the house. Besides, the value of the lots is increasing all the time and Mr. Edington may some day build another house on the second lot and thereby obtain double returns on his investment.

Miss Sadie L. Dailey has been somewhat under the weather of late, but has been able to continue at work without interruption.

With the approach of Spring, Mrs. M. Ballard is preparing to move out to their farm near Great Falls and commence raising chickens. Here's hoping that the colored gentry do not "lift" the chickens. Mr. Ballard expects to continue his duties in the Kendall School.

The St. Barnabas Mission will hold Lenten Services in the Church of the Good Shepherd every Tuesday evening during the period, commencing at 7:30 P.M. Each service will be followed by a short address on some appropriate topic.

The other afternoon, Mrs. Merrill decided to go out to Falls Church, Va., to visit Miss Lulu Mankin. It was Mrs. Merrill's first trip out that way, and she went all the way to Fairfax Court House by mistake, but she finally arrived at Falls Church and had no further difficulty in finding Miss Mankin's home.

Miss Mankin had been confined to the house for some-time, and was very glad to see her visitors. The Mankins have a pretty place and friends who visit them are assured of a hospitable welcome.

"Chirology."

Upon the strict interpretation of the meaning of the word "chirology" depends, in all probability, whether a postal fraud order will be issued against the Chirological college of California, a correspondence school, located at 701 North Belmont avenue, Los Angeles, on Inspiration Point, and conducted for the last twelve years by A. Victor Sergo.

From the deaf-mutes of far-off Guatemala has come a frantic signaling of protest against the local correspondence school. According to George A. Buelin, American consul general at Guatemala City, the Chirological college has been transacting business with a number of Guatemalans who are dissatisfied with the knowledge obtained through the school's correspondence course.

Expecting instructions on how to "speak" the sign language commonly termed the "deaf and dumb alphabet," it is alleged they received instead more or less explicit information on how to read the human character from outward signs.

STUDENTS CHARGE FRAUD

Consul General Buelin, in a letter to State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edward Hyatt, declares a charge of fraud has been made by the Guatemala students, and adds that the college's "representations appear suspicious."

The Chirological college is located on an eminence overlooking Echo Park, and consists of three imposing buildings of Spain architecture, representing a $250,000 investment. It was incorporated under the state laws in 1899 as an educational institution, and has been conducted as a correspondence school ever since.

When a reporter for the Herald explained matters to "Prof." Sergo last night that gentleman appeared puzzled.

"There was a high school student here about an hour ago," he said, "who, emulating Sherlock Holmes, endeavored to deduce the fact, despite my denials, that I was conducting a school for deaf-mutes. Not so. We make no claim of teaching the deaf and dumb alphabet."

"Mr. Webster of dictionary fame," replied the reporter, "declares chirology is the art or practice of using the manual alphabet or of communicating thoughts by signs made by the hands and fingers; a substitute for spoken or written language in intercourse with the deaf and dumb, and chirological relates to chirology."

TAKES ISSUE WITH WEBSTER

"Mr. Webster didn't know it all," replied the head of the chirological college. "Chirology means reading by signs or the communication of thoughts by signs, it is true. That's what we teach. How to read by signs."

"But you didn't teach the deaf-mutes how to read——"

"How to read by signs," continued the professor, ignoring the interruption. "That is, we teach one how to read the human character by signs—a man's outward signs—his face, nose, eyes, mouth, chin, head, in fact, every thing about him are signs by which one may read his innermost thoughts, his traits of character, if one is but educated as to how to correctly interpret these signs. That's our business; teaching how to read these signs."

Asked as to why the deaf-mutes of Guatemala should have been disappointed in the instructions they received, Mr. Segno replied he presumed it was because of their difficulty in translating the word chirology correctly from the English to the Guatemala language. The literature of the college states that the reading of the human character by signs is taught. No reference to the deaf and dumb alphabet, says Mr. Sergo, is made.—Los Angeles (Cal.) Herald, Feb. 9, 1911

NOTICE.

There are a good number of deaf-mutes in New York, as well as in Brooklyn and New Jersey, who have been misinformed that the N. F. S D. does not pay the members sick benefits nor to the beneficiaries death benefits, thus reflecting upon the good name of the above society. I wish it distinctly understood that the N. F. S. D. has and will keep its promises and pay such claims in whatever nature it may be. Several members in New York have been paid sick benefits and I can vouch for same.

Not long ago, George Lucas Reynolds, a member of Brooklyn Division No. 23, who died at Gallaudet Home, Wappingers Falls, N. Y., and the above society has paid to his cousin who has been named beneficiary in his certificate the sum of $250.00. To verify the truth, any one can ask Mrs. Mary E. Meeker, 71 Maple Ave., Danbury, Ct., the beneficiary in question to whom the death claim was paid, or through me as I have letters in my possession which I will gladly show as evidence to that effect.

Sincreely yours,
LOUIS A. COHEN,
Secretary.
Brooklyn Div. No. 23.

George Lucas Reynolds

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty in his inscrutable wisdom to remove from our midst our esteemed bother, George Lucas Reynolds; and,

WHEREAS, It is with profound regret that we, the members of Brooklyn Division, No 23 of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, have sustained the loss of a respected member; therefore,

Resolved, That this Division, in meeting assembled, do hereby pass this resolution as a testimonial of our sympathy and respect; that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our order, and a copy be sent to the bereaved relatives, and that a copy be published in the Southern Optimist and the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

The Gallaudet Memorial.

It is proposed to create a memorial to the late Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D.D., by the erection of a Parish Building for St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes. The present Church is situated on 148th Street, just west of Amsterdam Avenue, and is built some twenty-five feet back from the line of the street to permit the erection of such a building as above indicated, which will form a facade to the church edifice and be a center of religious and social life amongst the silent peoples. Dr. Gallaudet hoped during his lifetime to see the erection of this building, which would have completed the church with which his name has always been associated. This was not permitted, and it is suggested as a most fitting memorial to him that this work be now undertaken. St. Ann's Church is used wholly for the deaf-mutes.

The new building will occupy a plot of ground about forty-five feet along the street front and twenty-five feet in depth. It will be three stories in height, with a basement, and will be used for the social, religious and industrial needs of the deaf-mutes of New York. The amount required for "The Gallaudet Memorial Parish Building" will be about $30,000, and the building itself, in its position and purpose, will form a conspicuous monument to him whose life was devoted to the silent peoples. They themselves heartily endorse the memorial.
